Dr. Harvey Levy is a general and hospital dentist from Frederick, Maryland, where he offers full service dental care emphasizing treatment for individuals with anxiety or special needs. He serves as department head at Frederick Memorial Hospital where he provides comprehensive dental care in the OR. During his 38 year career, Dr. Levy has treated 1,400 hospital patients and administered oral sedation during 30,000 patient office visits. He is ACLS certified, holds a Class I sedation permit, and has been a BCLS instructor-trainer for the American Heart Association.

Dr. Levy has earned a Mastership and two Lifelong Learning Service Recognitions by the Academy of General Dentistry along with eight fellowships, four diplomate certificates, and board certification in Integrative Medicine. He completed a two-year residency in Rochester, NY, and was a GPR residency clinical director at the Univ. of Penn. Hospital. Dr. Levy has written many articles, produced on-line courses, audio and video tapes, and lectured to thousands. His work with anxious and special-needs patients has earned him the AGD Humanitarian Award, the ADA Access to Care Award, the Maryland Governor's Doctor of the Year Award, and the honor of being a 2002 Winter Olympic torch runner.
